SUB-STATE PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release August 26, 2021

July unemployment rate dips slightly in Las Vegas while Reno and Carson City remain steady

According to the Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation's (DETR) July 2021 economic report, Nevada's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 7.7 percent in July 2021 which decreased by 0.1 percent from June 2021 and was down nearly 9 percentage points from July of 2020. Seasonally adjusted estimates account for regularly seen economic patterns, with the following estimates not seasonally adjusted.

In the three Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSA), the unemployment rates were 9.4 percent in the Las Vegas area, 4.9 percent in Reno, and 5.3 percent in the Carson area in July 2021.

In Nevada's counties the lowest unemployment rate was in Eureka County at 3.2 percent, and Clark County had the highest rate at 9.4 percent. For a look at unemployment rates in your county visit our Area Profiles Page.

Nevada Local Area Labor Market Overview

July 2021

Published on August 26, 2021

Initial claims continued their downward trend in July with claims declining to 9,796 (-4.4 %) initial claims in Nevada. Claims in the state peaked at 208,869 claims in March 2020.

The state had an unemployment rate of 7.7 percent in July, down from 7.8 percent in the previous month and a significant improvement over the 16.6 percent in June of 2020. When looking at non-seasonally adjusted data, we see that the unemployment rate in Clark county dropped by 0.2 ending at a rate of 9.4 percent. Both Washoe and Carson City county remained unchanged over the month. All other counties saw an increased unemployment rate in July. Within the state, rates ranged from 3.2 percent in Eureka County to 9.4 percent in Clark County. Within Clark County, the City of North Las Vegas has the highest unemployment rate in the state at 11 percent. Although unemployment rates did increase in many areas around the state, these figures are not adjusted for normal seasonal changes. Seasonally adjusted unemployment data is not available at the county or city level, however, when looking at the state level we can see a slight improvement in the unemployment rate in July.

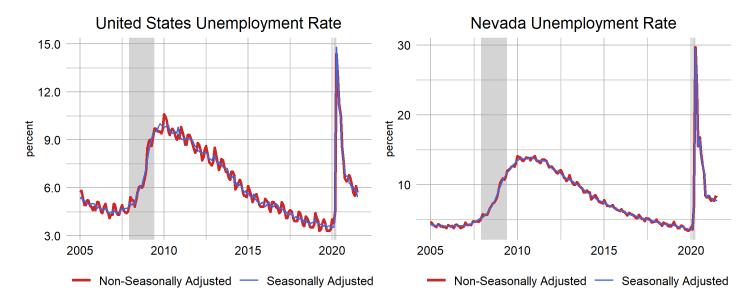

Figures for our unemployment estimates come from the Local Area Unemployment Statistics (LAUS) program, a state/federal partnership sponsored by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS-LAUS). This program produces monthly and annual employment, unemployment, and labor force data for census regions, states, counties, metropolitan areas, and many large cities, based on place of residence. For more on LAUS data or for a look at estimates in your area visit our LAUS Page, and for a look that the economic profile of Nevada, the MSAs, or your county visit our Area Profiles Page.

Unemployment Insurance Benefits (UI)

Initial claims for unemployment insurance totaled 9,796 statewide in July, down 4.41 percent from June. July showed the lowest total initial claims filed in 2021. The decrease in claims this month follows a similar trend starting in February 2021 and can be expected to continue to decline at a gradual pace. The implementation of another layer of verification on UI claimants may explain part of the decrease in this month's initial and continued claim totals. Pandemic-related effects on unemployment will continue to vary these values.

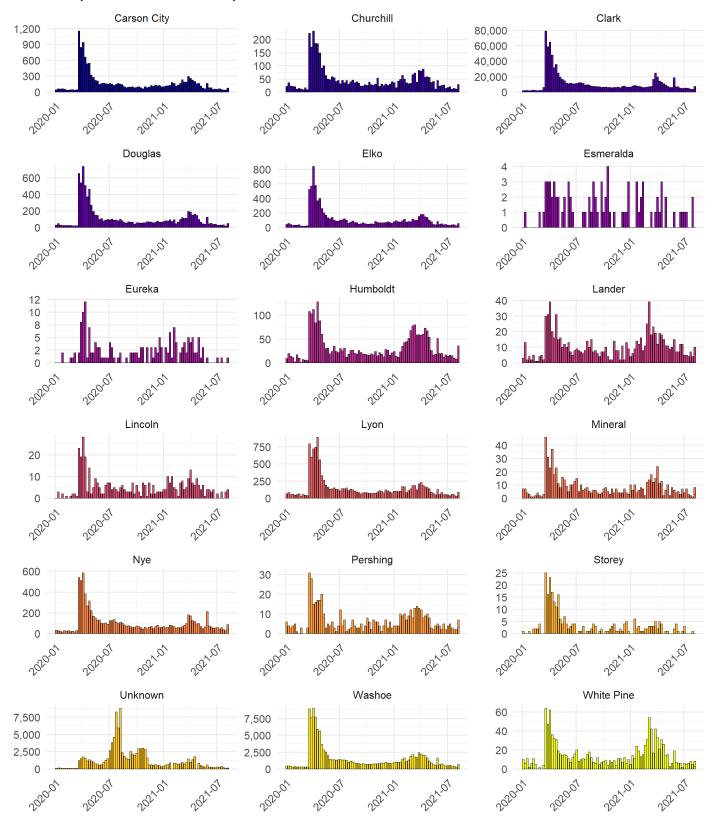

At the county level, most counties saw a decrease in initial claims. The statewide decrease in initial claims can be attributed to the decreases seen in Clark and Washoe counties over each report week in the month. Continued claims for the regular unemployment insurance, which are a proxy for the number of persons filing for regular benefits in a given week, realized a decline over each report week in the month as well. Continued claim levels have been more stable in the recent months as most of Nevada's claimants are receiving benefits from the pandemic extension programs.

Looking to other measures of unemployment insurance activity, we saw most counties' final payments decrease since last month apart from Churchill, Eureka, and Storey counties. First payments decreased in most counties with the exception of Esmeralda, Lander, Lincoln, Mineral and Nye. Additionally, almost all counties saw a decrease in benefit payments with Pershing County seeing the largest percent decrease over the month of 34 percent. It should be noted that nearly $22 million of the state's $28 million decrease in benefit payments over the month came from Clark County.
